The EVENT

2015 is the 20th year of Tai Chi Caledonia. As it's special milestone we have extended this annual event to jointly celebrate our anniversary with the Taijiquan and Qigong Federation for Europe who, by coincidence, has also attained 20 years of promoting Internal Arts in Europe.

Tai Chi Caledonia has earned an international reputation for offering high-quality instruction, warm Scottish hospitality, and a genuine caring concern to ensure that everyone who joins us will have an experience that will stay with them forever. 2015 will be even more exceptional!

Located in the heart of beautiful Scottish countryside, the historic 'Braveheart' landscape, provides the perfect environment for the practice of internal arts.

2015 promises to be our most memorable event ever. In addition to our regular programme we will offer many special additions.

All the essential information is contained within this compact programme, however we recommend you regularly visit our website or Facebook pages for fuller descriptions and updates as we add more things to this celebratory programme.

Stirling is centrally situated less than 1 hour from Glasgow or Edinburgh, Scotland's two major cities. There are a number of budget airlines which serve Scotland. Our website has travel guides. The campus is a short bus ride from Stirling railway station.

The Venue

This special event is also our 18th year at Stirling University Campus which is set in a spectacular woodland, with lakes and ancient buildings. There are acres of open green space which abound with wildlife, which is perfectly suited for our training.

We offer a range of disciplines that allow practitioners of all levels to increase their knowledge in a spirit of openness and sharing. The weekend programme is listed in a progressive order, from A-E providing practical workshops for everyone from complete beginner to adept. A approximate guideline A = Qigong, B = Tai Chi forms and basics, C= Basic Partnerwork Push Hands, D = More Advanced Push Hands & Other Internal Arts, E = Martial Applications. The week-long programme offers a chance to study more in-depth, over a period of 10 hours, with two different teachers.

Special Guest Instructors

Monday - Thursday workshops run from 9.00 - 11.30 and from 14.00 - 16.30

Heaven, Earth, Man - Barry McGinlay
During the week our aim is to reinforce your practice by bringing together your tai chi form, qigong and pushing hands, we will look at how they interweave and compliment each other allowing a deeper understanding and study of your tai chi. The sessions will be challenging and have an emphasis on solo, partner and group work. So whether you are a beginner or an old-hat at tai chi you will come away with a fresh look at Tai Chi.

Qigong and Healing - Franziska Rüscher
When Qi flows unobstructed through our body, our emotions and our mind, a stream of healing energy arises which we can apply to self-healing. We will use elements from Wudang Hui Chun Qigong to develop this skill, applying basic exercises to develop our personal Qi. We'll share qigong partnerwork for training energy-awareness and special breathing techniques to release negative Qi and help to open the Greater Heavenly Cycle. Yin/Yang and the Five Elements are the domains to develop our healing power. Accessible to all.

13 Step Tai Chi Form - Tomasz Nowakowski
The 13 Step Tai Chi Form includes the basics for the study, of all aspects of tai chi such as timing, balance, structure and movement awareness in forms and practice research and applications. In these sessions will work on both solo and partner routines to develop a deeper sense of good tai chi practice. One to one lessons for participants - advice to personal practice. The workshop is open for beginners as well as advanced.

Relaxation in Taijiquan - Margherita Padalino
Relaxation is an essential basic principle for correct Taiji practice. Over the course of the week, by means of solo and partner work (Tui Shou and Conditioning exercises) we will work to develop deeper experience of this fundamental principle. Accessible to all.

Tuina (Chinese Massage) - Roberto Benetti
Tuina is a perfect complement to those who train in Martial Arts or have an interest in massage. We'll study basic principles and key techniques with an emphasis on developing internal work and Qigong to prepare the body and mind. We will develop sensitivity through the correct practice of Tuina and its application in Push Hands. For beginners and those interested in deepening their martial practice as well as for practitioners of other Internal or Healing Arts.

Seated 12 Pieces of Brocade Qigong - Faye Li Yip
From the ancient traditional sitting Dao Yin Exercises, these first appeared in Shou Shi Chuan Zhen edited by Xu Wenbi in the period of Qianlong in the Qing Dynasty. Recently modernised and refined by the Health Qigong Research Team of Beijing Sports University, the set combines traditional Daoist meditation, massage, Daoyin stretching, and exercises for the meridians, facial area, head, shoulders, chest, back, waist and lower limbs. Participants should bring a cushion a mat, towel, or a low chair/stool for this workshop. Accessible to all.

Don't Talk, Do It - Pushing Hands - Judith van Drooge
Keep it simple easy and comfortable, filling up the shape. Let the energy flow, when your heart knows, let the body follow. Is the body loose, soft enough to gain the speed you need. Is what you do practical? When it works continue otherwise find another way. Open for all levels. Come and move with me

The Taijiquan Method - Nabil Ranné
Starting from basic movement principles we will work through solo and partner drills and exercises to improve fundamental Taijiquan skills like rooting, unifying, connecting, spiraling, hardness and softness and so on. The idea behind these workshops is to get a solid feel for these practical concepts and to be able to work on them in solo practice as well as partner applications. From dedicated beginner to advanced practitioner.

An Introduction to Taiji Sword Fencing - Frédéric Plewniak
We will enjoy safely-structured, gentle contact drills and games to explore how the principles of Taiji may apply to sword fencing. This workshop will primarily focus on blade perceptiveness. Accessible to any Taiji sword practitioner, irrespective of level or style.
